TAIPEI, Taiwan, Oct. 30, 2009 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Silicon Motion Technology Corporation (Nasdaq:SIMO) (the "Company") today announced its third quarter 2009 financial results. For the third quarter of 2009, net sales increased 14% quarter-over-quarter to US$23.1 million. Net loss (GAAP) for the third quarter decreased to US$4.7 million or US$0.16 per diluted ADS compared to a GAAP net loss of US$6.2 million or US$0.22 per diluted ADS in the second quarter.

Net income excluding stock-based compensation, acquisition-related charges, foreign exchange gain, and one-time items decreased in the third quarter to US$0.8 million or US$0.02 per diluted ADS as compared to US$1.0 million or US$0.03 per diluted ADS in the second quarter of 2009.

Third Quarter 2009 Financial Review (1)

Commenting on the results of the third quarter, Silicon Motion's President and CEO, Wallace Kou, said:

revenue growth. Our markets remained challenging but we grew our mobile storage controller volume 21% and our overall revenue 14% sequentially. As we had expected, NAND flash industry component volume started growing again this quarter as a result of higher NAND flash industry utilization rates and progress in migrating geometry to 40nm and 30nm. Our retail and bundled businesses have both improved with the increased availability of flash. However, we do not believe we are out of the woods yet. NAND flash prices increased further in October and these high costs are being passed down to consumers in the form of higher retail prices for storage devices-and this in turn affects the momentum of our recovery.

Nevertheless, we believe that we continue to be well positioned with the technological changes taking place in the dynamic NAND flash industry. We have launched new controllers that support low cost 3-bits per cell MLC that Toshiba, SanDisk, and others are beginning to release to market. We believe that 3-bits per cell MLC, supported by advanced controller technologies, is well suited for meeting the cost and performance requirements of consumer storage applications and could in a few years time become the mainstream type of flash for the consumer market. In addition to the release of our new 3-bits per cell MLC controllers, we have also launched other new controllers: controllers that support 30nm NAND flash produced by vendors in addition to IM Flash, controllers that manage lower grade NAND flash, and controllers for card makers that want superior performance.

This quarter, our mobile communications business started shipping our ISDB-T SoCs to Samsung for the Brazil market, a design-in that we had announced last quarter. We also secured two CDMA transceiver design-ins with leading handset OEMs for the rapidly growing China market. These two design-ins, as well as the CDMA design-in that we had previously announced, should start shipping in the fourth quarter to early 2010 time frame. We believe that these new design-ins will serve as a strong base for long-term growth in our mobile communications business."

Other Income and Expenses

Net total other income excluding net foreign exchange gain or loss, and one-time items was US$0.1 million, which was unchanged from the previous quarter. GAAP net total other income was a loss of US$1.6 million, which was significantly lower than the loss of US$3.4 million in the previous quarter due primarily to lower foreign exchange loss in the third quarter.

Earnings

Net income excluding stock-based compensation, acquisition-related charges, net foreign exchange loss, and one-time items was US$0.8 million in this quarter, a decrease from US$1.0 million in the second quarter. The third quarter was positively impacted by a deferred tax benefit of US$1.4 million. #### Balance Sheet

Cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments decreased slightly from US$60.7 million at the end of the second quarter of 2009 to US$60.6 million at the end of this quarter.

Business Outlook:

Silicon Motion's President and CEO, Wallace Kou, added:

"While our business has improved, we remain vigilant against unexpected changes in light of continued NAND flash volatility. NAND flash prices have risen in October and this will affect the near-term procurement of flash and controllers by our customers. We are uncertain whether NAND flash prices will remain at these level, rise further or fall. We do, however, believe that progress on the ramp of 30nm and 40nm flash, 3bits per cell MLC, and lower grade flash will continue and demand for higher performance memory cards and other solid state storage device will increase. We believe we remain very well positioned to capture opportunities in these growth areas."

For the fourth quarter of 2009, management expects:

-- Revenue to be flat to up 10% sequentially

- -- Non-GAAP and GAAP gross margin to be in the 46% to 48% range
- -- Operating expenses excluding stock-based compensation, acquisition-related charges, and one-time items of approximately US$14 to US$15 million

Discussion of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement the Company's unaudited selected financial results calculated in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP"), the Company discloses certain non-GAAP financial measures that exclude stock-based compensation, acquisition-related charges and one-time items, including non-GAAP cost of sales, non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP operating expenses, non-GAAP operating income, non-GAAP

net income, and non-GAAP earnings per diluted ADS. These non-GAAP measures are not in accordance with or an alternative for GAAP, and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies. We believe that these non-GAAP measures have limitations in that they do not reflect all the amounts associated with the Company's results of operations as determined in accordance with GAAP and that these measures should only be used to evaluate the Company's results of operations in conjunction with the corresponding GAAP measures. The presentation of this additional information is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the most directly comparable GAAP measure. We compensate for the limitations of our non-GAAP financial measures by relying upon GAAP results to gain a complete picture of our performance.

Our non-GAAP financial measures are provided to enhance the user's overall understanding of our current financial performance and our prospects for the future. Specifically, we believe the non-GAAP results provide useful information to both management and investors as these non-GAAP results exclude certain expenses, gains and losses that we believe are not indicative of our core operating results and because it is consistent with the financial models and estimates published by many analysts who follow the Company. We use non-GAAP measures to evaluate the operating performance of our business, for comparison with our forecasts, and for benchmarking our performance externally against our competitors. Also, when evaluating potential acquisitions, we exclude the items described below from our consideration of the target's performance and valuation. Since we find these measures to be useful, we believe that our investors benefit from seeing the results from management's perspective in addition to seeing our GAAP results. We believe that these non-GAAP measures, when read in conjunction with the Company's GAAP financials, provide useful information to investors by offering:

- -- the ability to make more meaningful period-to-period comparisons of the Company's on-going operating results;
- -- the ability to better identify trends in the Company's underlying business and perform related trend analysis;
- -- a better understanding of how management plans and measures the Company's underlying business; and
- -- an easier way to compare the Company's operating results against analyst financial models and operating results of our competitors that supplement their GAAP results with non-GAAP financial measures.

The following are explanations of each of the adjustments that we incorporate into our non-GAAP measures, as well as the reasons for excluding each or these individual items in our reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures:

Stock-based compensation expense consists of non-cash charges incurred as a result of the Company's adoption of SFAS 123R relating to the fair value of stock options and restricted stock units awarded to employees. The Company believes that the exclusion of these non-cash charges provides for more accurate comparisons of our operating results to our peer companies due to the varying available valuation methodologies, subjective assumptions and the variety of award types. In addition, the Company believes it is useful to investors to understand the specific impact the application of SFAS 123R has on our operating results.

Intangible amortization consists of non-cash charges that can be impacted by the timing and magnitude of our acquisitions. We consider our operating results without these charges when evaluating our ongoing performance and forecasting our earnings trends, and therefore excludes such charges when presenting non-GAAP financial measures. We believe the assessment of our operations excluding these costs is relevant to our assessment of internal operations and comparisons to the performance of our competitors.

Litigation expenses consist of the legal expenses relating to complaints SanDisk filed in the US International Trade Commission and the US District Court for the Western District of Wisconsin.

Impairment losses on long-term investment relates to the other-than-temporary, non-operating write down of the Company's minority stake investment in Vastview Technology Corp. The investment was written down after the Company determined that it was other-than-temporarily impaired.

Foreign exchange gains and losses consists of translation gains and/or losses of non-NT$ denominated current assets and current liabilities, as well as certain other balance sheet items which result from the appreciation or depreciation of non-NT$ currencies against the NT$.

Potential risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, our belief in the outcome of any claim or lawsuit, including those uncertainties relating to litigation filed against the Company relating to whether its products are covered by patents not owned by the Company; unpredictable volume and timing of customer orders, which are not fixed by contract but vary on a purchase order basis; the loss of one or more key customers or the significant reduction, postponement, rescheduling or cancellation of orders from these customers; integration of our recently announced acquisitions; general economic conditions or conditions in the semiconductor or consumer electronics markets; decreases in the overall average selling prices of our products; changes in the relative sales mix of our products; changes in our cost of finished goods; the availability, pricing, and timeliness of delivery of other components and raw materials used in our customers' products; our customers' sales outlook, purchasing patterns, and inventory adjustments based on consumer demands and general economic conditions, including the general global economic slowdown as it effects the Company, its customers and consumers; our ability to successfully develop, introduce, and sell new or enhanced products in a timely manner; and the timing of new product announcements or introductions by us or by our competitors. For additional discussion of these risks and uncertainties and other factors, please see the documents we file from time to time with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including our Annual Report on Form 20-F filed on July 14, 2009. We assume no obligation to update any forward-looking statements, which apply only as of the date of this press release.
